

Fengxi Economic Zone representatives visit to Israel

February 26th, 2017

“Xixian New Area should be the national pilot area of innovative urban development methods” (President Xi Jinping, Feb. 2015)

The Fengxi Economic Zone, located in the Xixian New Area, utilizes a free-market economy system and was established by the Shaanxi government with the support of the NDRC. It was established as a direct strategic result of the China’s 12th Five-Year plan (2011-2015) of western development and today it is funded and supported by the government and the private sector and functions as a major innovative hub that offers tax and business incentives for investors and tech companies.

Fengxi is a strategic area for the tech industry with a focus on new materials, the Internet of Things, Information technology, Biomedicine and Urban agriculture. One of Fengxi Economic Zone’s goals is to shape and strengthen incubators’ culture in China, as supporting, mentoring and investing in accelerators can benefit the country enormously. To accomplish that, Fengxi cooperates with eight domestic incubators in China including Wuhan Guanggu Coffee, Dlian Yiya, Beijing LeBox Capital, Aviation Industry Corporation of China (AVIC), and Suanier Technology.

The representatives of Fengxi Economic Zone are constantly on the lookout for new cooperation with incubators and innovative startups and on February 26th, 2017 a Fengxi delegation will arrive to Israel for a series of meetings with possible relevant companies. Their mission is to introduce Fengxi, share the knowledge of the Chinese innovation incubators system, acquire a deeper understanding of the Israeli innovation ecosystem and investments policies, learn about local incubators’ management and working methods, and explore professional cooperation possibilities.
